

PERF 2030 MUSICOLOGY AS A PROFESSIONAL PRACTICE

Credit Points 10

Legacy Code 102858

Coordinator Jacob Leonard (https://directory.westernsydney.edu.au/search/name/Jacob Leonard/)

Description This subject offers the opportunity for students to apply musicological skills and knowledge to real-world contexts, such as writing program notes, music reviews, and blogs, researching and retrieving music repertoires for performance in various ensemble configurations, researching, analysing and critically writing about music from a range of genres, and adopting key analytical strategies for considering music in its cultural, intercultural and historical contexts. The teaching materials and content in this subject will be designed to closely align with and support the practical projects being chosen and designed by students in two project subjects (1 and 3) in the Bachelor of Music. The subject will provide students with a broadly informed view of current issues in music practice.
