

HEALTH MANAGEMENT STUDIES, MAJOR (0278)

Western Sydney University Major Code: 0278

Available to students in other Western Sydney University

Programs: Yes, however the following restrictions apply.

The Health Management Studies major is open to all Western students and offers a broad understanding of the complex social, economic and cultural determinants of health and well-being. The current health care context and service systems are examined and students are encouraged to consider new directions for innovative service design and delivery. A 140-hour work placement is included and allows students an opportunity to engage in the health sector. Graduates will be skilled in understanding, managing and responding to rapid changes within the health care system, the broader political sphere and in areas that deal with policy and service assessment, development and evaluation.
