INFO 3018 COMPUTING PRACTICUM

Credit Points 10

Coordinator Harpreet Kaur (https://directory.westernsydney.edu.au/search/name/Harpreet Kaur/)

Description Students are immersed in real-world experience in the Computing industry whilst undertaking 140 hours of full-time or part-time equivalent industry placement as a Work Integrated Learning (WIL) component. During their placement students carry out computing related tasks and receive instruction and tuition in aspects of professional practice. Students may nominate an organisation of their choice which must be approved prior to commencement of their placement. Organisations nominated may be located in Australia, or within Western Sydney University or globally. Students who do not hold Australian residency are not permitted to nominate an organisation in their home country.

Learning Outcomes

1. Analyse knowledge and skills requirements for workplace practice as part of performance planning and goal setting
2. Communicate effectively in a variety of forms to diverse audiences
3. Conduct professional presentations appropriate to context
4. Work in a team environment demonstrating professional practice attributes and workplace culture awareness
5. Report and reflect workplace experience, relevance of academic material to workplace activities, response to performance feedback, and skills development.

Subject Content

A 120 hrs full time or part-time equivalent of industrial training in the ICT industry performing following tasks:

- Find details of assigned workplace including relevant work practices and procedures
- Follow relevant work practices and procedures
- Learn verbal and written professional communication practices and methods
- Professional presentation
- Perform appropriate workplace tasks as directed
- Seek feedback on assigned tasks from appropriate person
- Document evidence of activities carried as required

Work integrated learning

Students will be working in an external organisation within Australia or department/division within the University carrying out tasks related to ICT in the day-to-day business activities. Students are free to nominate an organisation of their choice within Australia. For those students who are not able to find their own placements, SCDMS and/or the University's Careers Division could support student in finding one. These positions may/may not involve payments.

This engagement allows the University to expose computing students to the industry prior to completion of courses. This essentially helps to bridge the gap in academia and ICT industry.

The engaging organisations have the opportunity to access future workforce. This may assist them in finding possible future employees.
